This is our Rainbow of Hope group. They have raised money to buy each class an atomiser where we burn some essential oils each day. The children have chosen Lavender, Peppermint and Lemon.

This helps the children to feel relaxed and calm and also helps with the germs and bugs in the air.

They raised the money by holding a 'rainbow dress up day' at school.

Many thanks to them for their hard work in helping to make our school even nicer for all the children.

Gainsborough's Blue Boy Project.

We have been invited to the National Gallery in London and to take part in a project which links our school in Sudbury to a school in California during the exchange of art work that is currently happening. We are the only school in the UK to have been invited to be involved with this project and it is a huge honour for us.

The Blue Boy painted by Thomas Gainsborough is now back in the UK and displayed in the National Gallery. Our children in year 5 and 6 are off to London on Tuesday 15th March to see the picture. They are currently studying the painting and exchanging information with the school in California about life at school in the UK and US. They do this via either zoom or a padlet. The zoom meetings happen very early in the day or after everyone else has gone home due to the time difference.

Sudbury is the birth town of Thomas Gainsborough and art at Tudor is a very important subject for all our children. We have a designated room for art and all children receive weekly art lessons. .

Bird Food Hamper.

The children in year 6 were delighted to win a Bird Feeding Hamper from our local garden centre Perrywoods in Sudbury.

The children have been regularly feeding the birds and watch all the different birds arrive each day and were completely delighted to have won this hamper. We are already putting it to good use.

World Book Day Competition.

For our world book day celebration we asked the children to decorate a plate with their favourite book character.

The results were amazing and here are just a few examples.

The children also dressed up in their bedtime reading clothes and enjoyed listening to stories and reading books during the day.

World Book Day reading at school.

It was a lovely day full of stories and reading and hot chocolate!
